ARE YOU A LIGHTWORKER? FIND OUT NOW!

Hello you gorgeous spiritual explorers!

If you answer YES to more than four of the questions below then you are a lightworker! If you answer YES to fewer than four, you might still be a lightworker, but just still in the process of waking up ... No matter how long you have been on your journey, great things await you now.

Lightworkers are awakening all over the world, in all sorts of fields and even though they may not have thought of themselves as lightworkers, if you are awakening and working on yourself as a human being, then you are helping bring light or consciousness to our planet!

You might be a baby-lightworker, just starting to explore your spirituality and wondering how it might lead to a happier and healthier life or you might be an advanced lightwork practitioner working with groups and teaching, sharing your light and special gifts (whatever they may be) with those around you.

No lightworker is the same or even necessarily has to work in the spiritual field, though there will be a sense of the spiritual about them. Many are educators, or in politics or leadership roles, many work in art, music and film, even in the media and publishing and yet others still have very quiet lives and private spirituality which is such an important gift to our planet.

No matter what sort of lightworker you might be, or even if you prefer to use a different term (or none at all) to describe your spiritual path this lifetime, we can all benefit from loving guidance and inspiration on to the next step – for each and every one of us has a next step to take.

It is my privilege to be here with you and offer guidance and inspiration for whatever that next step for you may be.

Bright blessings to you, dear soul.

May you delight in the next phase of spiritual self-discovery on your journey.
